

Palm Beach Motor Yacht 50

A day on the water surrounded by style, charm and classic charisma!

Palm Beach motor yachts are made for the connoisseur of fine things, with sleek classic lines and a presence that defines elegance and grace. This is a stand out yacht in any marina worldwide, a collector's piece of art that is also practical and impressively engineered.

This, and all the Palm Beach motor yachts, are meticulously crafted for the individual as they tailor each aspect of the boat to personally suit your style, expressing unique character throughout.

It is a pleasure to step aboard the Palm Beach 50 as the onlookers stop in their tracks to peek a glimpse at the possible star or celebrity boarding and being whisked away. It is clear from initial impressions a day of cruising onboard will truly be an indulgent experience. Sipping champagne whilst cruising the calm seas on route to a secluded destination is everything one needs to wind down from a hectic lifestyle. The Palm Beach 50 is a perfect launch for cruising to your favourite beach or sheltered bay, opening the aft deck door and enjoying a splash in the water or relaxing on the foredeck catching some rays.

This, and all the Palm Beach motor yachts, are meticulously crafted for the individual as they tailor each aspect of the boat to personally suit your style, expressing unique character throughout. After assuming the position on the aft deck, the wind gently flows around the streamlined design and allows this uninterrupted alfresco area to be effortlessly enjoyed. As we make our way through the harbour to the quiet bay for lunch, the group of enthusiastic guests filters through the yacht, some keen to help the skipper at the helm while others prepare the upcoming feast in the galley. An elderly couple that are happy to sit back and relax out of the elements have commandeered the lounge area. Taking in all the joy that this boat is bringing to its passengers makes you realise that the finer things in life really do contribute to your happiness and wellbeing.

It is a very smooth ride as the unique hull shape slices through the water. Obviously the design and superior construction play a main role but we are all convinced the captain, with his confidence and charisma, plays a part as well. There is no engine noise or fumes to indicate we are being powered by impressive twin electronic Yanmar 480 hp diesel engines. It would be clear to say that by the time we dropped anchor everyone on board had been lulled into a tranquil trance and were ready to take advantage of the crystal clear water and white sandy beach only metres away. The afternoon drifted away as the bronzed sun worshippers were soaking up the last rays on the foredeck and the ice bucket was being replenished with yet another bottle of bubbly.

This particular Palm Beach 50 is configured with a master cabin forward which has plenty of space to store all our outfit changes for the day, and an ensuite that allowed for a freshen up after a swim. I can imagine the raised large bed offers a very comfortable sleep as the water gently laps against the hull. There is a lot to be said about the tranquil motion of the ocean lulling you to sleep - next time I will insist on an overnight stay. As we smoothly pull into the marina and are faced with reality, we all decide to enjoy the sunset on the aft deck with yet another drink to celebrate and reflect on the days activities.

A day spent on board the Palm Beach 50 is a treat – an indulgent day that will encourage even the non-boatie to >>
